

Feminist solidarities in times of crises

Online workshop

Monday 14 November 13.00-16.00

13.00: Welcome and introduction – GIRWG Co-convenor Lindsay Clark

13.15: Roundtable 1: Solidarities in crises:

Chair: Annika Bergman Rosamond (GIRWG Co-convenor)

Asma Abdi – Warwick

Dr. Debangana Chatterjee – JAIN

Dr. Laura Martin – Nottingham

Hemangini Gupta – Edinburgh

Georgina Holmes – KCL

RT 1: Provocations

What contemporary crises require both feminist attention and feminist solidarity?

What can we do as academics specifically? What research questions need to be asked? What do we need to be cautious of?

14.00-14.15 Break

14.15: Roundtable 2: Internationalizing solidarities

Chair: Lindsay Clark

Dr. Balsam Mustafa – Warwick

Prof. Shirin Rai – SOAS

Dr. Muireann O'Dwyer – St Andrews

Aytak Dibavar – McMaster

Faezeh Daemi – McMaster

RI2: Provocations

In these times of crises, how are feminists demonstrating solidarity with one another?

How can we develop greater solidarity and care amongst feminist academics but also within wider society?

15.00 – 15.15 Break

15.15 Roundtable 3: Intersectional solidarities

Chair: Annika Bergman Rosamond

Dr. Jamie Hagen – QUB

Maria Susana Peralta – Colombia Diversa

Dr. Nitasha Kaul – Westminster

Isabella Aung – Queen's University Canada

Kirthi Jayaumar – Gender Security Project

RT 3: Provocations

How can feminist solidarities in times of crises contribute to more intersectional thinking and practice?

What are the barriers to improved intersectional solidarity in times of crises?

16.00 Thanks and Close