

Rethinking Global Ethics in a Changing World – Draft Programme

Friday 8th December

Location: University of Sussex

BISA Ethics & World Politics Working Group

Co-sponsored by the Centre for Rights and Anticolonial Justice, University of Sussex

9:30-10:00	Coffee & pastries / Welcome: Robin Dunford (Brighton)
10:00-11:30	Panel 1: The Human and Critiques of International Law Chair: Kim Hutchings (Queen Mary) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lara Montesinos Coleman (Sussex), 'For an Insurgent Humanism'• Beatriz Arnal Calvo (Brighton), 'Feminist eco-centric pacifist praxes for the Anthropocene'• Sean Molloy (Kent), 'Explaining the Limits of International Law: Returning to Hegel's Critique of International Law After Cosmopolitanism'
11:30-11:45	Coffee break
11:45-13:00	Panel 2: Global Ethics in Everyday Practice Chair: Rahul Rao (St Andrews) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Susan Murphy (Trinity College Dublin), 'Localisation and decolonisation in humanitarian and development cooperation: what do donors want and why does this matter?'• Miao-ling Lin Hasenkamp (University of Rostock, Germany), 'Digital Ethics as Everyday Practice: Exploring Its Universal Rules'
13:00-13:45	Lunch
13:45-15:15	Panel 3: Migration Ethics and Action on Local/Global Scales Chair: Louiza Odysseos (Sussex) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Dan Bulley (Oxford Brookes), 'Everyday Immigration Ethics: Colombia, Venezuela and the Case for Vernacular Response'• Moises Vieira (Manchester), 'Hospitality for migrant pregnant women in the National Health Service: midwives' moral dilemmas and the (im)possibility of being ethical'• Stanislaw Kwiatkowski (Sussex), 'Ethical solidarity of diasporas and coalition building in times of mass human rights violations in China'
15:15-15:30	Break
15:30-17:00	Keynote Roundtable: Rethinking Global Ethics in a Changing World Chair: David Karp (Sussex) Speakers: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Kim Hutchings (Queen Mary)• Rahul Rao (St Andrews)
17:00-17:15	Concluding Reflections: Robin Dunford (Brighton), David Karp (Sussex), Susan Murphy (Trinity College Dublin)